NAETINEM

Name of activity:	CZECH FOOTPRINT IN THE WORLD
Educational objective:	For a better understanding of Czech identity, to show, through the example of good practice, that even a representative of a small country like the Czech Republic can have a significant impact on the lives of tens of thousands of people abroad and can contribute to the development of communities around the world.
Qualities in focus:	Civic responsibility
Target group, age of the students:	14 th – 15 th years of age (secondary education)
Suitable for:	Civics History Educational area: Man and Society Educational field: Citizenship education
Teaching aids, preparation:	PC, dataprojector, internet network
Time needed:	1 unit (45 minutes)
Description of activity:	At the start, a brainstorming will take place to determine the level of student pre-concepts in the field of Czech influence abroad. Afterwards, the teacher will introduce students with the example of good practice – Tomas Bata and its towns and factories all around the world. Students can add their own reflection on similar examples. The last part represents a feedback discussion of students and explanation of their questions.
Created:	10. 3. 2022	Author:	Doc. PhDr. Hana Marešová, Ph.D., MBA
Own reflections:	Students will learn about the example of a man who managed to influence not only the lives of people in the Czech Republic, but also the lives of communities around the world. This will help them realize that it does not matter what nation a person comes from, as long as he or she decides to work for the society and does not give up even when serious obstacles stand in his or her way. This example helps build resilience in students. At the end, there is a feedback with student's reflection, on which students can verify the amount of memorized information from the presentation.
